

MODULE 9 | Peace, Conflict and Security

Learning Objective	The module sheds light on the different dimensions of climate change impacts in fragile environments, conflict and human mobility. Conflict-related displacement stories presented in this module underline that the first aim should always be to prevent violent conflict(s) and work towards peaceful mediation of conflicts. Additionally, a set of climate policies will be identified and discussed that can serve as effective security policies in a warming climate.
Learning Outcome	After use of the tool, participants will <ul style="list-style-type: none">▶ understand:<ul style="list-style-type: none">▶ the linkages between climate change impacts and conflict, and conflict and mobility outcomes in a changing climate▶ be able to:<ul style="list-style-type: none">▶ define and differentiate forms of conflict and security▶ apply a conflict lens in their work and conflict-sensitive approaches
