

MODULE 3 | Migration

Learning Objective	This module explores how climate change impacts can result in people migrating. First, general definitions and terms as well as a typology of migration will be introduced. Additionally, migration will be discussed as an adaptation strategy. Based on individual stories of migrants, different forms and dimensions of migration will be explored. Additionally, following these migration stories, cross-sectoral linkages, policy responses and management options will be identified and discussed.
Learning Outcome	By the end of this module participants will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ define migration and climate migration and distinguish different types of migration ▶ discuss how climate impacts can lead to migration along a continuum of distance, time and the degree of choice people have ▶ understand that migration can be applied as a strategy to adapt to negative impacts of climate change ▶ identify policy options to foster the positive effects and reduce negative effects of migration ▶ know relevant stakeholders and cross-sectoral linkages to tackle migration in a sustainable way
